

Living Hell

New Found Glory

You'd be a thorn in my side
Every doctor would break their scalpel
    Trying to cut it out
    I'd spend my time
    Ruining moments you'd share
If they're not mineDistract them by calling you a liar
While someone's outside popping their tiresIf I can't have you, I'll make sure no one will
    I'd be beside myself
If I can't have you, I'll make sure no one will
    Like a living hellI'd be the pain in their neck
    Every corner they'd do double takes
    And look over their shoulder
    Make them regret
Every thought that they've had of being with youYou're both out for a night on the town
You get home and the house is burnt downIf I can't have you, I'll make sure no one will
    I'd be beside myself
If I can't have you, I'll make sure no one will
    Like a living hellCan I give you a ride back home?
    You can tell me where I went wrong
    Then I'll promise you that I would never Let you down againSo if I can't have you, I'll make sure no one will
    I'd be beside myself
If I can't have you, I'll make sure no one will
    Like a living hell
    Like a living hell
Like a living hellIf I can't have you to fill my shoes, I'll make sure no one will
    No one will
    Like a living hell
