

B-Side

Mad Caddies

i know exactly where youve been but i dont fear you
i know its harder to give in but i dont hear you
i feel a change
somethings in the air its all around my head i know you try to put the blame on me i throw it back insteadso here we go again kickin it with friends burn another joint and get right to the point falling on my own
got no place to go
wait for me outside
ill take you for a ride
in my life
on the b side
ill never leave
its just the place for me
a home away from home another down a couple more to go the only way ive knowndont wait for me ill meet you there
if im not with you
i dont care
when everything just goes your way and its supposed to stop you but you just cant say
