

Bleach

John Roberts

In the air my troubles are away
Only if just for this one day
Everyday is an afternoon clowns
Kings and Queens and we all get crowned
The change has fly, leaving you left to try Walking through dark, she stumbles into the light
Bleaching out the backdrop, her eyes steal the wait
She thinks the worlds so gray
It's right because it's just that way
Life's through backdrops and colossal extremes
Your reactions make me want to, want to scream
The change has fly, leaving you left to try Walking through dark, she stumbles into the light
Bleaching out the backdrop, her eyes steal the wait
Your headaches, get up, get up, go
Walking through dark, she
stumbles into the light
Bleaching out the backdrop, her eyes steal the wait
You're living alone
