

One in a Million

Bodyjar

Sometimes when I'm driving in my car
I wish that you could take the wheel
But you're not there, it's so unfair

What if I hit that dog again? Sometimes when I'm lying in my bed
I let those voices in my head
Influence me to some degree

Now I'm not sure of anything I wish you knew what I was thinking of They told me to breathe, they told me to lie down

I figured it out, you're one in a million
'Cause I'm writing the words down

I figure my chances are one in a million And I don't know why
And I don't know where to begin Sometimes when I'm running out of cash
I'll jump a taxi in a flash
I know it's wrong, his light was on

And I just had to get to you Sometimes when I'm talking on the phone
I get advice from the dial tone
It's nothing new and I'm confused

I know I'm losing my mind I wish you knew what I was thinking of They told me to breathe, they told me to lie down

I figured it out, you're one in a million
'Cause I'm writing the words down

I figure my chances are one in a million And I don't know why
And I don't know where to begin Sometimes when I'm driving in my car
I wish that you could take the wheel
But you're not there, it's so unfair

What if I fall asleep again? Sometimes when I'm lying in my bed
I let those voices in my head
Influence me to some degree

Now I'm not sure of anything I wish you knew what I was thinking of Can't believe what I've been thinking of No chance, one in a million
No chance, one in a million
No chance, one in a million
One in a million
