Everybody's Waiting For A Change

Holly Williams

I think it's time you look at your own face
Can't you see you're speaking out of place
There's nothing to keep you down
You're reaching for the sky while you drown
I'm aware that I've been lost and I've been unkind
But at least I got the courage to admit the crime
So don't come down on me
I'm still young, I'm trying to believe
Wait, I'll be fine
Just give me a couple years to say my prayers
I'm alive, you should keep that mirror for yourself
You've got problems you never saw and I'm the bearer of them all
Everybody's waiting for me to fall
You criticize my walk as I watch you crawl

Nothing's ever fair
But I believe in reality everywhere
Wait, I'll be fine
Just give me a couple years to say my prayers
I'm alive, you should keep that mirror for yourself
Everybody's fighting hard but there's no leader in the dark
Everybody's waiting for a change
Everybody's waiting for
Everybody's waiting for something better
Everybody's peeking behind that door
If you try too hard you will never find it
Everybody's waiting for something more
There is so much danger in wanting more
