

Tension

Killing Joke

Sitting in my armchair
Thinking again and again and again
Going round in a circle
I, I can't get out Then I look around
Thinking day and night and day
Then you look around
There must be some explanation And the tension
And the tension builds
And the tension
And the tension builds Take advantage
Let nothing be fantasy
How do you grow
As you stunt your growth? Nothing you say
Makes sense anymore
I look around
There must be some explanation And the tension
And the tension builds
And the tension
And the tension builds Sitting in my armchair
Thinking again and again and again
Going round in a circle
I can't get out [Incomprehensible]
Thinking day and night and day
Then you look around
There's nothing left to say And the tension
And the tension builds
And the tension
And the tension builds And the tension
And the tension builds
And the tension
And the tension
And the tension builds And the tension
And the tension
And the tension builds And the tension
And the tension
And the tension builds And the tension
And the tension
And the tension builds And the tension
And the tension
And the tension builds
