Hidden

Brokenkites

Hidden in your every move
Are the words that you will never say
Stars and moons are not your style
I've known for a while this is not your wayI hear youI do know you very well
And our time will tell if I read you right
It can be so very hard
Looking for a dark horse in the nightI see youI do know you very well
And I will until you can prove me wrong
Maybe I'll find you are not
Anything like what I've thought all alongDon't think soOne day you'll say what you mean
And will I be seen for a cloud of dust
Now I've nothing left to say
And I'll find my way by your light of touchI'm with you
