

Tragedy

Chris Semonik

Momma, where has your son gone
He's lost in desperate revelry
They're comin, gatherin up their forces
And charging on Mount Calvary, victory!

One by one they're calling on us
To fight a phantom enemy
Takin babies from their homeland
Sell our souls for victory, treachery!

They're comin to take you away...yeah-h-h

Mothers, where have your boys gone
Taken far across the sea
Mothers, where have your boys gone
They're fighting hard to keep us free, casualty!

It's a tragedy, what they've done to me
It's a tragedy, was blind but now I see...Ha!!!

Mothers, where have your boys gone
Taken far across the sea
Mothers, where have your boys gone
They're fighting hard to keep us free, victory!

Mothers, where have your boys gone
Taken far across the sea
Mothers, where have your boys gone
They're fighting hard to keep us free, casualty!
