That's What a Daddy's For

Eric Horner

That a boy son!
Hey, way to go!
Don't you bring her home late.
Words all daddy's know.
There's nothing to fear but fear itself.
Is your homework all done?
Do you need some help?
The sacrifices they made, they did it all for our sake.

They mended our hearts,
Built houses in trees,
When we needed prayer they hit their knees.
They listened and loved us,
And gave us advice,
And came to our rescue without thinking twice.
They taught us to trust in the Lord.
But that's what a daddy's for.

They tucked us in with a hug and a kiss.
They worked hard to give us the things that they missed.
They took us to church, and came to our games,
And even in our mistakes they loved us the same.
The sacrifices they made, they did it all for our sake.

They mended our hearts,
Built houses in trees,
When we needed prayer they hit their knees.
They listened and loved us,
And gave us advice,
And came to our rescue without thinking twice.
They taught us to trust in the Lord.
But that's what a daddy's for.

Where do the years go?
The time slips away.
It seems we were children just yesterday.
But all that we needed we looked to the man who provided it all with his loving hands.

They mended our hearts,
Built houses in trees,

When we needed prayer they hit their knees.
They listened and loved us,
And gave us advice,
And came to our rescue without thinking twice.
They taught us to trust in the Lord.
But that's what a daddy's for.
That's what a daddy's for.
