Electric Red

Meshuggah

Humanity peeled from our bones Deprived of integuments that make us real Shadows of flesh to maintain the system Our own blood splashes as we kneelSo meticulously machined Into these obedient devices Puppets, fine tuned, submissive drones Replicas of each other, clonesWe're dormant accumulations of flesh In a crimson filtered twilight Mute witnesses to the game Wrenches to keep the bolts of lies tightWe're the fabric concealing the stains The red tainted existence The gullibles to bless your sins away Rags to wipe your blooded trailsWe give in to the atrophy To the twining of self-thought knowledge The purpose of the human mind reviled Everlasting ignorance realized The scarlet flood that inundates our powerless thoughts Defenseless minds with the lies overfedEvery thought stained, defiled Painted the color, the shade of electric red
