

Waterlow

Mott the Hoople

(ian hunter)I followed the night till the morning sunlight
And I thought of the changing times
And I followed the child with the evergreen smile
And the blue broken tears start to cryBlue broken tears hide away the years
Misty highway seems colder todayAnd I saw a waterlow where the evergreen grows
And the wise man knows why he crys
And I heard a child call me away from this all
And the blue broken tears start to riseBlue broken tears ain't nobody here
Lost in the sun my only young oneBlue broken tears our love disappears
The evergreen dies drowned in my eyes

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>