Kirby's House

Razorlight

From the stillness came an ovation
It rattled the foundations of the house that I live in
No I can't live there anymore
A child sleeps then he awakens
He shrieks till he's taken to a house he can live in Take him to a house he can live in
And in the morning when you know it's gonna be alright
In the morning when you know it won't remember a thing
Well, in the morning when you know it's gonna be alright
[Incomprehensible], it's gonna be alright

Yeah I, I get drunk and sentimental I need a touch that is gentle

Just to take me

Take me to a house I can live in

Take me to a house I can live in

Take me to a house I can live in

And I heard your crooked words about something So I'm saying nothing, I know that it's nothing Can you hear it in the house that you live in?

Take me to a house I can live in

Take me to a house I can live in

Take me to somewhere I can live

Take me to a house I can live in

Take me to a house I can live in

Take me to a house I can live in

Take me to a house I can live in

Take me to a house I can live in

Take me to a house I can live in

Take me to a house I can live in

Take me to a house I can live in

Take me to a house I can live in

Take me to a house I can live in

Take me to a house I can live in

Take me to a house I can live in

Take me to a house I can live in

Take me to a house I can live in

Take me to somewhere I can live!

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/