

Angelina

Keb' Mo'

Angelina, baby, won't you please come home

Angelina, baby, won't you please come home

You know my heart is aching and all my dreams have gone
Well, now my bed is empty, my feet and my hands are cold

You know my bed is empty, my feet and my hands are cold

Come on home, Angelina, my love for you will never grow old Well, now I've tried to love you with diamonds and pearls

But all that did was tear us apart

And I've tried to give you everything in the world

When all you really wanted to wound my heart, oh ho
Angelina, baby, won't you please come home

Oh, Angelina, baby, won't you please come home

You know my heart is aching and all my dreams have gone
Well, I've tried to love you with diamonds and pearls

But all that did was tear us apart

And I've tried to give you everything in the world

When all you really wanted to wound my heart, my heart
Well, Angelina, baby, baby, won't you please come home

Well, sweet Angelina, baby, won't you please come home

You know my heart is aching and all my dreams have gone
That's right, baby

You know my heart is aching and all my dreams have gone
