Wings

Gravity Co.

Take the colors of my summer dream
Just take my hand and go after the sin
Inside your mind you always want to hide
Behind the wings of sunny butterflies

Have I ever told you what it feels like?
You`ll never know that thrill unless you try
Sometimes I wasn`t right, it wasn`t me
But you`ve always been the one beside me

Don`t leave me on this yellow, dusty road
You know my weakness - I love you so
Forget the past we`ll never be the same

Just spread your wings and fly with me again
We`re never going to touch the ground
Did you ever want to reach the sun?
I spread my wings and fly
We`ve always wanted to be free
We`re rising up above the streets
Just spread your wings and fly

Don`t wait for the others, get a grip
You don`t need to suffer all the time
The world is harmless - that`s a lie
Your dreams are real only when you fly

Now we`re so many miles away from home
The road is long but we are not alone
The crying clouds of the endless day
Waiting for the night they stay

We`re never going to touch the ground
Did you ever want to reach the sun?
I spread my wings and fly
We`ve always wanted to be free
We`re rising up above the streets
Just spread your wings and fly
I spread my wings and fly

Just spread your wings and fly

We`re lonely stars
Shining on a velvet summer sky
We`re flying high
High above the fading city lights

We`re never going to touch the ground
Did you ever want to reach the sun?
I spread my wings and fly
We`ve always wanted to be free
We`ve rising up above the streets

Just spread your wings and fly
I spread my wings and fly
Just spread your wings and fly.
