Pretend to Be the Same

Slick Shoes

You and I only have the time
To smile when we pass by
Growth just seems like a nice word to say
Things will never be the sameBut let's just stay right here this way
We don't need to worry about tomorrow
And I know that things will change
We'll just pretend they're the sameThe places we felt safe, taken away
Go and find what you need to be freeYou and I only in our minds
Can laugh at the old times
Only time will finally wait, you see
How much of my life you have changed
