I See

Hannah

I know you looking for me
I heard you callin` and callin` for hours
And at the end of that street
We finally meetIt has been raining all day
And now the stars only showing the light
I try to find the right way
You did the sameI see there's something in your eyes
So strange tonight
I feel you falling into me
I know it's realI have been missing your voice
I still remember your sweet tender smile
I know you did have any choice
To leave that life
