Highway

Claire Lynch

California coastlines
With its never-ending sunshine and it's anita?? springs sounds so good to me I might head out to the Rockies got an old friend there from college we stay up all night and talk about old times well I couldn't make him love me and so the story ends say a bittersweet good bye and turn these wheels into the windHighway you don't know where you're going you're just rollin' from sea to sea
Highway
you don't know about love I guess you could say you're a lot like me Highwayif you feel the need to slow down we could seek out any small town hear the church bells chime while we have the time then it's back to painted white line chasing daylight in the nighttime looking up ahead and trying to forget but my heart is got to move on this much I know is true I don't have a destination I'm leaving that up to yourefrainbut my heart is got to move on this much I know is true
I don't have a destination I'm leaving that up to yourefrain
