King

Deitrick Haddon

Oh, whoa, whoa
Ooh
(I'm a, I'm a)
You can call me, you can call me king
(I'm a king)
You can call me, you can call me king
(I'm a, I'm a)
You can call me, you can call me king
(I'm a, I'm a)
You can call me, you can call me king
(I'm a, I'm a)
I'ma
I am a king, I was born on the Eastside of Detroit city
It's like a jungle but I survived
I used to dream that I had a pair of wings
And I would fly with the angels, I would hear melodies
Then I wake up, um, and I would tell my revelation
But they say, "You're just a boy with a big imagination"
(I'm a)
I am a king
Call me king, call me king
Call me king, call me king, king, oh
Call me king, call me king
Call me king, call me king, king, oh
(I know who I am)
I am in the air
Had to move to the Westside, didn't have no money
I was raised to have some pride
I used to sing, oh, sing to ease the pain
And I knew one day that my voice would bring change

I am a king
Call me king, call me king
Call me king, call me king, king, oh
(I know who I am and who I am)
Call me king, call me king
Call me king, call me king, king, oh
(I know who and who)
Oh, oh, oh, oh, oh

You can call me, you can call me king
Oh, oh, oh, oh, oh
You can call me, you can call me king
You are the winner, you may have come from the slums
But you're the one, you were made in His image and glory
You're supposed to be, um, the leader of your home
Please understand my brother, I believe that you can
Leave the pain, eh, reach down in your soul
And you will reach every goal
And the whole would know
Ah, you are a king
Call me king, call me king
Call me king, call me king, king, oh
Call me king, call me king
Call me king, call me king, king, oh
How many nights I cried get here
So many others give up on the try to get here
You don't remember nothing else I said
Gotta get this in your head
You are a king
Call me king
