Resignation

Abitan

You can't be right
You're full of prejudice and spite
You think you've got me pegged but you're wrong
Out of my wayThere is a consequence to pay
You think you've got me pegged but you're wrong
I am someone who'll burn the whole world down
I'm the one to bring it right aroundYou're giving up on me
But what else have you gotYou're losing sight
I won't give up without a fight
You think you've got me pegged but you're wrong
I'm not afraidI'll take the chance I have to take
You think you've got me pegged but you're wrongYou can't expect the world to bend to you
You only feed the fire of anger and our disbelief
I can't be everything to everyone
And I can't be everything you think that I should be
