A Million Lights

Tree63

Can we hand out tonight
Underneath Your ceiling
I could stare up at a million lights
And listen to You breathingIf I fall fast asleep
It's just because I feel
So safe in You
It won't take much to wake me upCould I walk out to sea way
Beyond these breakers
We have no place amongst
The movers and the shakersYours is the only throne
I'll ever get down
On my knees before
You have the whole of meLover come away
Come away my loverI heard You say
You've stolen my heart with
One glance of Your eyes when I fell down
You raised me up that's gravityYours is the only throne
I'll ever get down
On my knees before
You have the whole of meLover come awayWhen I fell down
You were standing there waiting for me
You raised me up, welcomed me home
That's gravityWon't You come away
Won't You come away with my Lover of my soul

Songwriters
Ellis John AndrewPublished by BIRDWING MUSIC

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/