

Echelon

Thirty Seconds to Mars

Look at the red, red changes in the sky

Look at the separation in the borderline

But don't look at everything here inside (here inside)

And be afraid, afraid to speak your mindTook a moment before I lost myself in you then

Took a moment and I could not be found

Again and again and again and again

I see your face in everything

It took a moment before I lost myselfthe moment it could not be foundWhat's all the fascination with the Echelon?

What's with the constant questions you have this time?

What's with this circumstantial consequence? (consequence)

Find oversight before this night will ever rise againIt's all you've got inside your head

Better get a belief insteadTook a moment before I lost myself in you then

Took a moment and I could not be found

Again and again and again and again

I see your face in everything

It took a moment before I lost myselfthe moment it could not be foundTo find ourselves lost here
Within we need the reasons why

So we take this bridge with the others

That will thrive in the Great DivideLook at the red, red changes in the skyAgain and again and again and again
I see your face in everything

Again and again and again and again

I see your face in everythingTook a moment before I lost myself in you then

Took a moment and I could not be found

Again and again and again and again

I see your face in everything

It took a moment before I lost myselfthe moment it could not be found
