Fall

Kepano Green

There's a new wind blowing
It's blowing open a door
And I'm seeing clear now
Visions of a world I'd ignored

And it might sound crazy
After all I've been through
But I think I'm ready
To take my chances with you

What else can I do?

Cuz you cut to the place where I hide away
And you're breaking the stones in my wall
Never thought I'd ever be caught by surprise
But look at me fall

So lead me on now
Cuz I don't remember this road
But the place we're going
It feels a lot like coming home

And we'll be there before long

Cuz you cut to the place where I hide away
And you're breaking the stones in my wall
Never thought I'd ever be caught by surprise
But look at me fall

And now I never saw it coming
I didn't have the time to run
Never thought I'd ever be caught by surprise
But look at me fall
Look at me fall, yeah

Cuz you cut to the place where I hide away
And you're breaking the stones in my wall
Never thought I'd ever be caught by surprise
But look at me fall

I was so sure I'd never be here again
I thought I had tasted it all
Never thought I'd ever be caught by surprise
But look at me fall
Oh, look at me fall
