The Bell Hit

Howling Bells

Sing to what you know
On a train or a bus
Don't dismiss which way you go
Oh no, I've changed
In a flash or a spark
My remark is always this

Buildings fall I know
But I'm here to protect all the rest from falling down
This town's a mess
All the doors are knocked down
All the paintings wear a frown

If you want me to change
Well I've got to hear it
Oh, I know
I've got a very big house to show
But I need you to see

This life is a fate unknown
I'd never dreamed of this
Promises are empty in a world of empty bliss

How the times have changed
I'd rearrange your head space
Yeah, I would if only

Love ain't love no more
If you hit with a kiss
I'll admit it with a miss
I know,
I've got a very big house to show
But I need you to see

This life is a fate unknown
I'd never dreamed of this
Promises are empty in a world of empty bliss
