

What About Your Heart

Chely Wright

You got out with no bruises or scratches
You broke free with no visible scars
I just got this one question to ask you
Baby what about your heart
You would stand with no shoes on a hot sun
Do anything to always ???
You were cast as the all around good one
Baby, what about your heart
You're gonna break down and call me
It might be days or weeks
You'll cry and you'll say that you're falling
From grace right into me
You don't want who they want you to fall for
Try and try but it just breaks apart
You feel bad because you know that you need more
Baby what about your heart
You're gonna break down and call me
It might be days or weeks
You'll cry and you'll say that you're falling
From grace right into me
You're fighting battles in your head
'Cause we've made a mess of what god said
You know where I will be when you're ready
When that day comes I won't be oh so far
I will be the one with the whispers so steady (???)
Baby what about your heart
Baby what about your heart
