

Raccoon Eyes

Priestess

When I chose my role
In the forest of my soul
I would be the mountain
I would erodeAnd I'd block out the sun
Get the water in the river to run
And you could climbA mountain on which the face that you know
Eroded faster
You made it to catch the avalanche
That erased itWhen I spill my bile
In the valley of all time
The forest feels my fire
Fountain for milesAnd I'll reshape the earth
Or the cause of my birth
And the future's mineA mountain on which the face that you know
Eroded faster
You made it to catch the avalanche
That erased itA mountain on which the face that you know
Eroded faster
You made it to catch the avalanche
That erased it, oh yeahA mountain on which the face that you know
Eroded faster
You made it to catch the avalanche
That erased it, oh yeah
