Easy Come, Easy Go

Sierra Hull

Ghost in my closet and under my bed things that a child let's go on in her head but i'm not a child, anymoremy first real heartbreak, i was undone sworn that i'd given up on love but i'm not afraid, anymoreand i could look back on our story but that chapters gone and like raindrops off my back i can let your memories roll easy come, easy goyesterday morning i drove by your place reach for my cheek, no tears on my face cause i'm not that girl, anymoreand look back on our story but that chapters closed like raindrops off my back, i can let your memories roll
easy go to the place of peace that i have come to knowonce all my dreams were tied up in you and i walked in fear that you would not come true but i'm not afraid, anymoreand i can look back on our stories
and like raindrops off my back i can let your memories roll easy come, easy go
