Pictures & Computers (I'm Not Superman)

Scott Weiland

When I'm alone the world's at bay
Keeping them still as I slip away
But I'm not superman and I'm not every man

Have I done the best that I can to generate 'cause I still hateTo revel around and terrorize or sympathize and populate

'Cause I'm just every man who once was a stronger man
Who let the queen of his land burn off his cape
Now he just waitsOh, let me be, you take a step and squash on everything
Your holy water won't clean those Jimmy Choo's
You wear those shoes and then you run around all nightWhen I'm alone the world's at bay
Keeping them still as I slip away

But I'm not superman and I'm not every man

Have I done the best that I can to generate 'cause I still hateOh, let me be, you take a step and squash on everything

Your holy water won't clean those Jimmy Choo's
You wear those shoes and then you run around all nightPictures and computers and your broken lies
Can't you feel it, breathe it? Scent of lies
Run around in coffee bars, you're dressed to thrill
I bet you'd love to kill on your way home from Hyde
