

Strange Boat

Tom Jones

We're sailing in a strange boat
Heading for a strange shore
We're sailing in a strange boat
Heading for a strange shore Carrying the strangest cargo
That was ever hauled aboard We're sailing on a strange sea
Blown by a strange wind
We're sailing on a strange sea
Blown by a strange wind Carrying the strangest crew
That, that ever sinned We're riding in a strange car
We're followin' a strange star
We're climbing on the strangest ladder
That was ever there to climb We're living in a strange time
Working for a strange goal
We're living in a strange time
Working for a strange goal We're turning
Flesh and body into soul We're riding in a strange car
We're followin' a strange star
We're climbing on the strangest ladder
That was ever there to climb We're living in a strange time
Working for a strange goal
We're living in a strange time
Working for a strange goal We're turning
Flesh and body into soul
