Hey Now

MU330

Hey now hey now whets going on with him
Never paid too much attention to it, always thought
That we'd both make it through it, just a feeling that We both couldn't do better solid together, never fought
You never even raised your voice at me, we usually Just agreed holding hands walking through the puddles
How could things get so muddled?
You said this Would probably make things easier, not at first but Eventually, I just nodded my head and said OK
Let's try but it still doesn't make sense to me
Hey now hey now what's going on with him
Where did you go last night I hope you're making
New friends, how did you spend your weekend
So many things I never used to question
I'm debating convictions, sometimes I don't know
The difference between imagination and reality
I just somehow thought I was above suspicion
And jealousy hey now hey now what's going on
With, hey now hey now whets going on with
Hey now hey now what's going on with him?!?!

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/