Deceiver (Self-Righteous Betrayer)

Incantation

[Lyrics by Mike Saez, Music by: John McEntee & Kyle Severn]I don't know your followers are so deceived,
Into believing that a god like you could exist
Dictated through the tales and mortal gods,
I see right through all of your pathetic liesI envision this holy land
Smothered by your deceitYou give false promises to the ones who believeFeeding off the fear of the helpless and weak
In search of hope, and a more fulfilled life
The blind sheep threatened if they don't follow your ways
Belief in your god is something I could never conceiveI envision this holy land Soiled by your greedGrieving and pleading to eternally rest in your presence
You turn your back on those that call you their savior
Realizing this long ago, for I am no fool
Your golden gates tarnished through your selfish reignI envision this holy land
Corroding day by dayIn death's hour
They will see
Their lives were wasted
Dreaming of a heaven
A false description that showed to be untrueI envision this holy land
Smothered with your deceit
I envision this holy land
Soiled by your greed

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/