

Loaded and Alone

Hinder

Woah, yeah, yeah, oh Just a kid, just a fool
Always trying to play it too cool
So he did what he knew
He left home and he dropped out of school He wanted fame, fame, fame
Even just a little bit of shame, shame, shame
He would sell his soul over in and he changed his name
Never gonna get it back, no He's got money but he's way off track
So lonely that it makes him think back
To his family and his friends and the lady he left back home
He's loaded and alone, loaded and alone, yeah Still a kid, still a fool
Still trying to break all the rules
A big house with too many rooms
And an ego to go with it too He got his fame, fame, fame
More than just a little bit of shame, shame, shame
That he sold his soul over in and he changed his name
Never gonna get it back, no He's got money but he's way off track
So lonely that it makes him think back
To his family and his friends and the lady he left back home
He's loaded and alone He got his fame, fame, fame
Such a shame, shame, shame He's got money but he's way off track
So lonely that it makes him think back
To his family and his friends and the lady he left back home He's got money but he's way off track
So lonely that it makes him think back
To his family and his friends and the lady he left back home
He's loaded and alone, loaded and alone, yeah
He's loaded and alone, loaded and alone, yeah He wanted fame, fame, fame
Such a shame, shame, shame
He got his fame, fame, fame
Such a shame, shame, shame Yeah, lonely, lonely, lone
Lonely, lonely, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>