

It'll All Be Fine

Eron Falbo

Working so hard and sometimes waiting for you to make me understand
Been dodging bullets and I've been saving trains, with the palm of my hand
I've hung my head down thinking, all day long
I've even taken down the sacred tree, just to hear your song
If you are ready to go
Then you already know
That it'll all be fine
If you arrive some day
I'm sure you'll hear me say
That it'll all be fine
It'll all be fine,
It'll all be groovy, won't it, babe?
Been commanding armies for you, like a big bad man
Been signing treaties, erecting buildings, NGO's, at your command
As you can see, I can still bleed, but it's all for you
I'm gonna die someday, I'll never hear you say
The lyrics to your tune
If you are ready to go
Then you already know
That it'll all be fine
When you arrive some day
I'm sure I'll hear you say
That it'll all be fine
It'll all be fine,
It'll all be fine,
It'll All be fine
It'll all be fine
It'll all be fine
It will all, all, all
