

Angels & Lovers

Howard Jones

There's a whisper on the wind tonight
It tells me what the angels and lovers
Said this desire is not ordinary
Love is screaming at you If the moon should turn red
Over your head, don't let her go
Just believe it's your time, here is the sign
What angels and lovers find You find a love like this once in your life
A diamond in your hand, not a piece of glass
Picture you, looking back on
What you've done to lose all this time If the moon should turn red
Over your head, don't let her go
If the sea should turn dry
Don't let him fly, don't say goodbye If the planets collide, don't run
And hide change his mind
Just believe it's your time, here is the sign
What angels and lovers find This desire is not ordinary
Love is screaming at you If the moon should turn red
Over your head, don't let her go
If the sea should turn dry
Don't let him fly, don't say goodbye If the planets collide, don't run
And hide, change his mind
Just believe it's your time, here is the sign
What angels and lovers find
