

II. The Prey

Walls of Jericho

you left us here to die one fateful day to rot beneath the stones our flesh and blood prevail i wont forget that day
took it all as our carnage gave you life every day we cry from beyond for we just won't let you go and at the hands of fate you'll pay what's owed gore will tell our story validate your end you'll get what you deserve suffer for our glory
all that's left is hate you will pay for that day you ripped us from the earth
and at the hands of fate
we will get what's owed i'll never forget
