

A Night To Remember, A Morning To Forget

A Thorn For Every Heart

I can't love your eyes (Its all your fault)
I'm pushing back for more (As time flies by you wait for it)
And they paralyze (For anything at all)
I can't let you in (Lets waste away tonight)
Because that means that you win (The sands gone from the hourglass).
And its forever (Our time has passed) You're not the one to blame for this at all
Must have burnt this down, ashes all around
What were the questions that you had for me?
I couldn't solve it all, so just let it be Seasons are constantly changing
(Waking up, waking up to your eyes)
Time that we seem to be wasting
(You cut me out; you cut me out completely. We're out of time.)
Making up, breaking up for the last time (Even now)
The reflection of, your life tells me you're sleeping (Love won't wait)
Runaway, run from this
Cant be, cant be real.
[x2] I can't love your eyes (And all you are)
I'm pushing back for more (Are the mistakes that you make always)
And they paralyse (When everything's all wrong)
I can't let you in (Lets waste away tonight)
Because that means that you win (The sands gone from the hourglass)
And its forever (Our time has passed) Fingers that tap the windowpane
Are too numb. Numb for you to feel the real pain
The kind that lays in me
Wanting something more than what this life has brought to me
Now you're running, now you're running Seasons are constantly changing
(Waking up, waking up to your eyes)
Time that we seem to be wasting
(You cut me out; you cut me out completely. We're out of time.)
Making up, breaking up for the last time (Even now)
The reflection of, your life tells me you're sleeping (Love wont wait)
Runaway, run from this
Cant be, cant be real.
