Channel 4

Rafael Frost

back and forth, t.v. to school, there's not much else you know they're the only things that feed you what you think, you need to grow in the meantime, washington's concerned with overseas establishing (through corporate interest) foreigh policies get off the bus, walk through the door, a latchkey kid alone the t.v. is on as soon as you set foot in your home today is different, news is on instead of normal shows when i was younger, persian gulf. now kids see kosovo u.s. army, channel 4 how can you trust anyone who's televised a war oil, power, channel 3 there's entertainment value in the military investors increase profit margin, networks boost their ratings protest turns to celebration and disapproval is fading thousands die, but war is profit america is grinning t.v. dinners, fat with pride and thinking we are winning watch for our prosperity watch for our economy
watch us die on t.v.
watch us kill humanity
back and forth, t.v. to school, there's not much else you know
they're the only things that feed you what you think, you need to grow so if you want your kids to learn the morals of modern war then sit them down at home and they'll tune into channel 4
