

Only Ones Who Know

Vio

Sail out,
where no one else can see you anymore.
Ride out
and meet them like no one has seen before. You're lying alone. Bright moon.
I've never asked you of anything before.
I've been waiting for so long. Bright moon.
You and I have always been alone. You can tell me anything,
how it came to be, just like before.
You can tell me anything,
how it came to be, just like before.
I need to see you without anything,
so that you'll see me, like you used to. Oh I need a song to ease my mind,
to help me get on by.
When I'm low, made up out of worries,
act on as you know me. I close my eyes
and keep my fingers crossed
and if it all goes wrong
and this is our last song, let it go. You're the only ones who know. Lady Midnight.
You're worth a thousand lies to anyone.
You're not like anyone. Lady Midnight.
Sing me out a song I used to know. You can tell me anything,
how it came to be, just like before.
You can tell me anything,
how it came to be, just like before.
I need to see you without anything,
so that you'll see me, like you used to. Oh I need a song to ease my mind,
to help me get on by.
When I'm low, made up out of worries,
act on as you know me. I close my eyes
and keep my fingers crossed
and if it all goes wrong
and this is our last song, let it go. You're the only ones who know.
