

Death Rattle

Climate Control

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

I'll carry you home to the grave
You'll bury me once again
And with this dying breath I'll make everything that you've done come back tenfold
Your heart will swell up now
These wounds will bleed out loud and you'll scream but heaven will not hear you'll scream out loud for you
But you won't hear me
You'll fall when you cry wolf
And they don't answer you You stand for nothing more
Than dealing your black soul
Your selfishness is a blinder to the actions that tear those around you
You lie for daily breath
You've ripped apart the walls that once held you
Even hell will ignore you'll scream out loud for you
But you won't hear me
You'll fall when you cry wolf
And they don't answer you Empty your soul, you're no good for me
It's not my fault that you've turned out this way
It's easy for me, I have no more shame
Reap your rewards with the utmost dismay
