

Warriors

CoCo and The Butterfields

Joy o' joy, the king of kings
We'll keep fighting 'til the end
For a time that we've been taught to keep
Since our life begins
We are brothers, you and I
We'll keep standing side by side For we are warriors and warriors are not afraid to die
For we are warriors and warriors are not afraid to die
For we are warriors and warriors are not afraid to die
For we are warriors and warriors are not afraid to die You can think of me like an asteroid that's racing through the sky
I'll still think of you like a hurricane that's hurling round my mind
They say to give him time like a criminal that plans his next attack
I know I've been off the road, but I promise I'll be back Your heart is ticking like a clock (so I'll watch out for you)
Your tears are diamonds in the rough (that are shining through)
It's been hard for me but only God knows how it's been for you
So I say sorry now for there is nothing else that I can do You'll remember me as the man who kept his songs locked in a jar
I'll remember you as the ones who tried to supernova stars
But when our dreams unite I'll promise you I'll join you on the road I've said I've tried the sky but I'm telling you that this is all I've known [I've known] Your heart is ticking like a clock (so I'll watch out for you)
Your tears are diamonds in the rough (that are shining through)
It's been hard for me but only God knows how it's been for you
So I say sorry now for there is nothing else that I can do Joy o' joy, the king of kings
We'll keep fighting 'til the end
For a time that we've been taught to keep
Since our life begins
We are brothers, you and I
We'll keep standing side by side For we are warriors and warriors are not afraid to die Huh Huh!
Huh Huh! Your heart is ticking like a clock (so I'll watch out for you)
Your tears are diamonds in the rough (that are shining through)
It's been hard for me but only God knows how it's been for you
So I say sorry now for there is nothing else that I can do Joy o' joy, the king of kings
We'll keep fighting 'til the end
For a time that we've been taught to keep
Since our life begins
We are brothers, you and I
We'll keep standing side by side For we are warriors and warriors are not afraid to die Joy o' joy, the king of kings

We'll keep fighting 'til the end
For a time that we've been taught to keep
Since our life begins
We are brothers, you and I
We'll keep standing side by side For we are warriors and warriors are not afraid to die
For we are warriors and warriors are not afraid to die
For we are warriors and warriors are not afraid to die
For we are warriors and warriors are not afraid to die
