Lies

Sin Fang Bous

Everybody preys in the wounds
I don't care, but I wish that I would
She's the sun when I'm rain
But it was all ugly shouting againAll the while I breathe in pain
That's how I know all our secrets
Went down on all our friends
They say the same, that I'm changing againEverybody preys in the wounds
I don't care, but I wish that I would
She's the sun when I'm rain
But it was nothing but shouting againI wanted to sleep but when I closed my eyes
I wanted to write something true
I wanted to sleep but when I closed my eyes
Saw something real but only came up withLies, lies, lies, liesThe same town that killed this life
Better turn down the same eyes
That spit on their floors
With the same, mine and yoursI wanted to sleep but when I closed my eyes
I wanted to write something true
I wanted to sleep but when I closed my eyes
Saw something real but only came up withLies, lies, lies, lies
Lies!
