

Opinions & Assholes

None More Black

How can I make this a metaphor for how you spit on this,
For how you make me feel. Your 'sorry' gives as much as 'sorry' gets.
The riff is in. The riff is out again. I can't allow its taking me over.
I'm just not feeling the same. Shooting from the hip.
Not really what I had on my side.
How can I make this a metaphor for how I create this and how you criticize?
I'd love to spit it right at your face, but you can wipe it off. That's not good enough.
I can't allow it. I'm second guessing. I'm tired of guessing.
