

Visionary (We Have Band Longsighted Mix)

We Have Band

Even in a town known for its extremes
People achieving things through any means
Made of fear and insecurities
We understand but we're confused A pale faced redhead on the social scene
Sickly looking teenager with American dreams
Limelight living lots of giving
A tender touch on a body bruised A visionary, you are not absent minded, you forgot
Rolled up screwed up torn apart to fit inside a melting pot
An hour glass turned upside down
Empty heart turned inside out
Pick a story make it yours to tell
And on your knees you tell so very well
All your feeling we're receiving
Break the spell a change will come A visionary, you are not absent minded, you forgot
Rolled up screwed up torn apart to fit inside a melting pot
An hour glass turned upside down
Empty heart turn inside out Hands, they break as they bind you
You create while we define you
Desperate to leave something behind you
If I don't will they find me?
If I don't will they find me?
If I don't will they find me? If I don't they won't
(A visionary, you are not absent minded, you forgot)
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>