Broken Candy

Sawyer Brown

You have driven something special
From inside of me
I can't fight and I won't wrestle
With a broken dreamThere are miles and miles of highway
I've yet to see
And there's a-lot of broken candy
That still taste sweetI can smile but there's no laughter
In the breath I breathe
The thought of love hear ever after
Keeps me on my feetI've survived the test of loneliness
From the clouds I still can see
There's a-lot of broken candy
That still taste sweetThere's a-lot of broken candy
That still taste sweet
There's a broken heart inside me
That still can keep a beatI've gone down for the first time
Love won't give up on me
There's a-lot of broken candy
That still taste sweetThere's a-lot of broken candy
That still taste sweet
