

She Won't Let You Know

Early Grey

Verse 1

A rumble of thunder won't make you wonder
When clouds are in your mind
She gave you the reason, one helluva reason
To meet her every night

She's greatest love maker, you know you can take her
For a little while
She's always a stranger, she looks like an angel
But what's behind that smile?

Bridge1

No one knows what's on her mind
She feels the pleasure when she takes the pain
It won't be a long, long time before you see
That she'll take to hell

Chorus1

She's got fire in her eyes
And strength to win all wars
She will cry alone at nights
But she won't let you know

She's got fire in her eyes
And odds to win all wars
She needs rock'n'roll tonight
But she won't let you know

She won't let you kno-o-o-ow

Verse 2

This girl's full of fire and burning desire
She sways her hips so good
Her lips move so neatly, she does it so sweetly
Like every good girl should

She moves like a dancer, her eyes hold the answer
To what we came here for
But if you refuse her you know she will chose you

As enemy number one

Bridge2

What is goin' through her mind?
She hates the players but she loves the game
It won't be a long, long time before you see
That she brings only pain

Chorus2

She's got fire in her eyes
And strength to win all wars
She's not blinded by your lies
But she won't let you know

She's got fire in her eyes
And odds to win all wars
She wants you to break the ice
But she won't let you know

She won't let you kno-o-o-ow

Bridge3

Never know what's on her mind
She breaks the promise but she feels no shame
It won't be a long, long time before you see -
She has fooled you again
