

Turn Out the Light

Lou Reed

Lover, lover, why is there light
In the itchy gitchy evening and it's dark outside
And what's the difference between wrong and right
Wrong and right Isn't it funny how pain goes away
And then comes back another day
The air feels very good today
Good today Lover, lover, why is there light
Did you forget to turn off that light
Well, that's all right but it's way too bright
Way too bright See the eagle above the hill
The lake reflects and is so still
The tension has gone from my will
From my will Moon on the mountain shining bright
First there is dark and then there is light
And sometimes the light is way too bright
It's way to bright Why don't you turn out the light
Turn out the light
Turn out the light

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>