(encore) Save Me From Myself

Hanson

Amelia was always the one for me but she, she wouldnâ€™t stay
And on a fine day, I came home to find that she had sailed away
Maybe I am broken, in some way I can say â€˜Cause I donâ€™t wanna change but lord knows that I need some help Wonâ€™t you save me from myself

Cecilia with flowers in her hair was like the sun, she brought me the light
And I canâ€™t tell you for the life of me why I would choose to let it burn it out
I wish I was numb, alone here in my cell
Something in my heart is making me not feel so well
Wonâ€™t you save me from myself

I get no sleep â€˜cause Iâ€™m all alone
Like a living shadow where there once was bone
One cut deep and the other went sour
And no oneâ€™s to blame but I feel so shattered Maybe I am lying still inside my shell â€˜Cause I keep making waves and falling victim to the swell
Wonâ€™t you save me from myself
