Spoken

I've waited my whole life for this
To stand here face to face with you
All my failures, fears and doubts
Have all been taken awayRemember when I waited up
Through the night just to hear you
To hear you call my name
Just the sound of your voice
Took all of my heartache away
Taken awayI think of all the time I missed
Never knowing about you
But then your grace could take away
My regrets, my insecuritiesRemember when I waited up
Through the night just to hear you
To hear you say my name
Just the sound of your voice
Took all of my heartache away
Taken awayI gave you my heart, I gave everything to you
And in return you gave me everything
That I could never deserve
You gave me freedomI think of all the times, I missed
Never knowing about youI gave everything to you
I gave everything to you
I gave you my heart
I gave everything to youI gave you my heart
I gave everything to you
I gave you my heart
I gave everything to youI gave you my heart
I gave everything to you
I gave you my heart
I gave everything to youI gave you my heart
I gave everything to you
I gave you my heart
I gave everything to you
