Hangin' Around Again

Ingram Hill

Hangin' around again in the shadow of your broken love
You let me down again 'cause I'm drownin' in the damage done
Hangin' around again, with my broken love left in your hands
Until you say, you're not afraid to let me steal your heart
Or that you'll say a prayer for me in your bed at night
Or that you'll save a page for me in the book of your lifeBut now I'm Hangin' around again waitin' for you to see my light
You let me down again, 'cause you make me dream of you all night
And so I'll play my song for you and make it yours
So I can stay in your life always till the end of time
Or that you'll save a page for me in the book of your life
Sometimes IDon't know why I hang around anymore
Hoping you'll love like you haven't before
Waitin' for you to come out of your shelter
Wanting to hold youHangin' around again waitin' for you to see my light
You let me down again, 'cause you make me dream of you all night
Hangin' around again with my broken love left in your hands
