A Glacial Pace

Converge

My love, wrap your hands around my heart free me from the frost that enveloped my life my love, reach out your arms and pull me close let us tread in silence as their world drowns beneathMy love, wrap your hands around my heart free me from the frost that enveloped my life
my love, reach out your arms and pull me close let us tread in silence as their world drowns beneathIf being alive is just to survive i'd choose to drown in the turbulent seas if being alive is just to survive a glacial pace comes to an endIt brings on the floods that are the truest of tests a glacial pace comes to an end let our love guide us through the torrents ahead
if being alive is just to survive i'd sink within you for eternity
a glacial pace comes to an end and it brings on the floods that are the truest of tests
a glacial pace comes to an end
don't give up on me
my love, reach out your arms and pull me close let us tread in silence as their world drowns beneath
a glacial pace
a glacial pace
a glacial pace
a glacial pace
