"Throwing Fate The Slip" - 7th Order (Jones) 2003Â©7th Order Songs ASCAP

don't you touch that alarm now baby things are much worse than you'll ever know you'll come to no harm now mama just take my hand and we'll enjoy the show got 'em all in the crossfire baby right corner pocket

when it all comes down tonight we're throwing fate the slip this ain't the time for the charm now, baby only the truth gonna set you free going full bore, headed straight out the door hanging all my hopes on a dead calm sea

when it all plays out in life

all those years spent on the run learned the ropes on the underground I can see it in your eyes, all those hardwired lies rather tell the story than live one hey baby there's a man with a gun

when it all plays out in life we're throwing fate, fate the slip
throwing fate the slip
